

ZRA
MARVIN JONES AWARD OF EXCELLENCE
WINNERS

- 1993 Judith Block National Zoo (Smithsonian Institution)
Reason:
Developed the first Animal Records Keeping Manual
- 1993 Jean Miller Buffalo Zoo
Reason:
Developed the first Animal Records Keeping Manual
- 2000 Joanne Earnhardt Lincoln Park Zoo
Reason:
Developed the first organized set of Data Entry Standards for Exotic Animal Records
- 2000 Karin Schwartz Milwaukee County Zoo
Reason:
Developed the original Institutional Record Keeping (IRK) Course which became an AZA sponsored Management School course
- 2003 Adrienne Miller Roger Williams Park Zoo
Reason:
Involvement and leadership in several ZRA activities, mammal team leader in developing the Standards for Data Entry, involvement in founding and as a continuing instructor for the Institutional Records Keeping (IRK) course, and was the first member of ZRA to be elected to the AZA's Management School Board of Regents
- 2005 Linda Robledo Audubon Zoological Garden
Reason:
Early ZRA Leadership, developed one of the first in-house Records Keeper Training, helped develop the importance of Genealogies to animal records, developed the Dealer Profile Process, and co-founded the Safe Haven animal records concept
- 2007 Nilda Ferrer Wildlife Conservation Society/Bronx Zoo
Reason:
Contributions to the ZIMS development process and her long standing role as co-chair of AZA's

International Animal Data Information Systems
(IADISC) Committee

2007 Lynn McDuffie

Disney's Animal Kingdom

Reason:

Contributions to the ZIMS development process and her long standing commitment as ZRA's permit and licensing liaison with both AZA and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service